

COUNTY OPTION LAW CERTAINTY

Next Legislature Sure To Pass Such A Measure To Meet Growing Wave Of Good Government.

MATTER BEING DISCUSSED ALREADY

Would Be Similar To That Passed By Illinois, Which Has Resulted In Many Entire Counties Going Dry This Spring.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 10.—That the next Wisconsin legislature will enact a county option law, giving counties the right to vote on the question of whether or not there shall be granted any place within the county licenses for saloons, is predicted not only by extreme anti-saloon people but also by many level political observers.
While Wisconsin has been less prevalent than many other states in the direction of anti-saloon legislation, the movement has made steady progress here and each session of the legislature has seen now and more stringent excise statutes placed upon the books.
County option seems the very next step. The session of 1905 defeated the residence district option bill decisively, but the progress of sentiment in the following two years was such that a much more drastic measure went through and became a law without serious opposition.
In the session of 1907 county option bills were introduced, and one by Senator Barker was quite far advanced, but failed of passage. Next winter, however, it is expected that such a bill will carry.
It is assumed that it will come one of the highest contents of the session, for a like disastrous measure with respect to saloons and breweries properly could not be framed for it would mean almost immediate prohibition in every county outside of Milwaukee and others where there are large cities.
More than a year ago J. D. Beck, state commissioner of labor and industrial statistics, compiled statistics showing that from local option elections held under the present local community statutes it was apparent that a majority of the voters of the state were in favor of abolishing saloons.
The strongholds of saloon tolerance are in Milwaukee and the larger cities of the state.
County option would abolish saloons in most every county. Temperance sentiment is strong in the rural districts, and this strong rural sentiment would override the saloon-tolerant vote of most of the cities.

LIGHTWEIGHTS ARE READY FOR A FIGHT

Interest Is Considerable In Fight Between Britt and McFarland.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
San Francisco, Cal., April 10.—Interest in the fight between Jimmy Britt and Puckie McFarland has risen to a noticeable degree as the date for the encounter approaches, and Coffey's club promises to be crowded with ring enthusiasts when the going ends the lightweights into the ring tomorrow afternoon. The main event will be put on at 3 o'clock, according to present arrangements.
Reports from their respective training quarters today indicate that both men are in good condition. They have finished their heavy training and from now on will do only sufficient work to keep them in fettle. Both men are confident of the result, and so far as public opinion is concerned it might be either man's fight.

Both of the combatants are clever, shifty fighters, and both have a number of victories to their credit. McFarland has made an excellent impression on the local ring followers since he arrived here and went into training. In the matter of speed he is judged to be fully the equal of Britt, and probably has it on the latter in punching ability. Britt has greater ring experience and a finer knowledge of the scientific points of the game. McFarland, on the other hand, has all the confidence of a fighter who has never tasted defeat.
The friends of both men are sanguine over the result, and the only certainty, so far as the spectators are concerned, is that it will be a lively bout from start to finish. Britt, as the native son, is naturally a favorite, but plenty of McFarland money appears to be in circulation.

The articles call for 20 rounds, the fighters to weigh in at 125 pounds at 10 o'clock in the morning. They will receive 50 per cent of the gate receipts and their share will be a split of 65 and 35 per cent. The demand for tickets is good, and the promoters expect large receipts. The prices range from $2 in the bleachers to $10 in the boxes, with the average of $5 prevailing for reserved seats.

1,497 TOTAL VOTE AT CITY ELECTION

Shrinkage from the Primary Aggregate Was 400—Big Falling Off In All Wards but the Second.

There was a falling off of 408 in the vote at the city election last Tuesday as compared with that registered at the primaries on March 24, and the vote at the primaries on that date showed a shrinkage of 292 as compared with the total of 2,257 cast at the spring primaries in 1907. The 1908 election and primary vote by wards was as follows:
Election, Primary.
1st Wd. 253 387
2d Wd. 255 382
3d Wd. 251 328
4th Wd. 221 296
5th Wd. 137 282
Totals 1,497 1,955

CHAMPION GUM CHEWER.

Chicago, Ill., April 10.—Chicago is famous for its originality. It was left for a group of women, however, to start the latest and most unique form of entertainment ever given, a gum chewing contest. The Daughters of Veterans had to raise money to be devoted to a $50,000 memorial hall. These are hard times. Something different had to be tried. Cake sales and other old fashioned stunts have been worked to the limit. Finally the gum chewing contest was settled upon and was a success.
The entry fee was one dime. They chewed to "Yankee Doodle," "Marching Through Georgia," and they chewed to ring time, and they just chewed.
Mrs. Irene Anderson was awarded the first prize and is therefore the champion gum chewer.

COLLEGES TO DEBATE THE RATE QUESTION

Universities of Georgia and South Carolina Will Discuss Rate Question.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chapel Hill, N. C., April 10.—The annual debate between representatives of the University of Georgia and the University of North Carolina takes place here tonight and tomorrow to be an event of much interest. Carolina is to support the much discussed and Georgia the negative side of the question. "Resolved, That the State Should Not Prohibit a Maximum Railway Rate." The Georgia debaters, accompanied by a number of students, reached here today.

GOVERNOR APPOINTS DR. Q. O. SUTHERLAND

As the Wisconsin Member in Interstate Conference Proposed by Mayor Busse.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 10.—Governor Davidson has appointed Dr. Q. O. Sutherland of Janesville as the Wisconsin member of an interstate conference proposed by Mayor Busse of Chicago to discuss water and means of purifying the water of Lake Michigan with a view to making the great lake a safe source of supply for water for domestic consumption in the cities bordering on the lake. The conference will be composed of representatives of Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan, the four states comprising the territory bordering on the lake. The first meeting of the conference is scheduled to take place tomorrow in Chicago.
Deloit Man Honored
The governor has also appointed Dr. L. E. Bennett of Deloit as the Wisconsin delegate to a conference of the American Medical Society to be held at the Auditorium in Chicago April 13.

PREPARE PETITION FOR RURAL ROUTES

Many Persons Interested in Better Mail Service Seek Aid from Department at Washington.

Many of those interested in the betterment of rural mail service in Rock county are preparing petitions and diagrams for the desired changes and are forwarding their material to the Gazette for further action. Many inquiries are being received at the office and a large number of petition forms and map sections have been sent out. A number of completed petitions and diagrams have been returned here and there are still many in the hands of those interested which should be completed as soon as possible so that the whole matter may be placed before the postoffice department at Washington.

TOPP IS STILL AT LARGE IN MARSH

Sheriff Fisher and Constable Dull Failed to Get Their Man Yesterday.

After spending the day searching the marsh near the Topp farm in the town of Center, Sheriff Fisher and Constable Dull were forced to come back last evening without their quarry. On first reaching the Topp farm the father of Herman Topp, the wanted man, told them that he did not know where his son was. The sheriff and the constable started from oppo-

HEAD OF SALVATION ARMY IS 79 TODAY

General Booth Celebrates His Birthday in London—Started Army in 1865.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, April 10.—General Booth, founder and head of the Salvation Army, was seventy-nine years old today. The event was celebrated in this city with exercises in which 25,000 or more members of the army took part. The general is beginning to feel the weight of his years and his followers in otherlands have been given to understand that in all probability he will never be able to pay them another visit.
Born in Nottingham, April 10, 1829, the Rev. William Booth was in the early years of his career a minister of the Methodist New Connexion. In 1861 he left the church to become an evangelist in the slum quarters of London's East End. In 1865 he started "The Christian Mission," to which he gave the name of "The Salvation Army" in 1878. How this organization, under his personal supervision, has spread to every quarter of the world is a matter of history. General Booth has been indefatigable in his work. He has given his personal attention to every detail and has visited the many branches of the organization in every part of the world. The future of the organization, when the hand that has so long held it together is relaxed by death, cannot be foretold with any degree of certainty. It is said, however, that General Booth has been carefully studying the affairs of the army in shape and that when he passes away papers will be found indicating his plans for the future conduct of the vast organization. His successor as the head of the army will not be known until the sealed package he has prepared is opened after his death.

PRIMARY ELECTION UNDER A NEW LAW

First Election Tomorrow Under New Pennsylvania Primary Election Law.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Pittsburg, Pa., April 10.—The first primary election under the new law of Pennsylvania is to be held tomorrow, and politicians of all parties are awaiting the results with keen interest. From all indications more voters will participate in the primary than in any previous election.
The contest promises to be the greatest in the history of Allegheny county. Involved in the contest are about 2,500 offices, ranging in importance from Congressman to membership in the district republican association. The democracy will battle over the question of whether the national delegates will go to Denver or instructed.

Republicans, Democrats, Prohibitionists and Socialists will elect candidates for all offices to be filled, including Congressmen, members of the legislature, judges of the common pleas court, county commissioners, etc.
The republican state convention will be held in Harrisburg April 29, and the democratic state convention at the same place on May 20.

VETERANS GATHER FOR ENCAMPMENT

G. A. R. of Georgia and South Carolina Meet For Annual Encampment.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Elizabeth, Ga., April 10.—The Grand Army of the Republic, department of Georgia and South Carolina, met for its annual encampment here today. A fair attendance of visitors is on hand from both states and ample entertainment has been provided in their honor. The proceedings will conclude tomorrow.

TAFT CANDIDATE MAY BE ELECTED

Walter Alexander of Wausau Only One Who May Represent Taft at Convention.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., April 10.—Walter Alexander of Wausau is the only Taft candidate who has not been eliminated from possibility of representing Wisconsin in the republican national convention. His election in the eighth district seems probable on the face of still incomplete returns, but the La Follette managers declare that his remaining lead of 500 in the district will be destroyed when unreported remote precincts are heard from.

SCHOOL ASSOCIATION MEETING AT MONROE

Personals from the Cheese Center of Green County—Other News.

Monroe, Wis., April 10.—The Green County Sunday School association is holding the annual convention in this city. Delegations are present from different parts of the county and the convention is proving one of the most successful ever held. The opening session was held yesterday afternoon and the convention will come to a close this afternoon.

REPUBLICANS OF NEW YORK WILL CONVENE TOMORROW

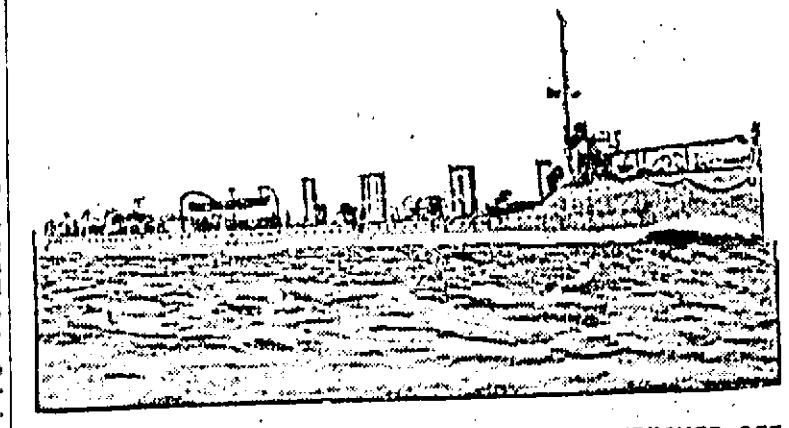

To Elect Delegates-At-Large And Instruct Them To Vote For Hughes For President.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, April 10.—The republican state convention which is to name delegates-at-large to the national convention and instruct them to vote for Governor Charles E. Hughes for the Presidential nomination will assemble in Carnegie Hall tomorrow morning. Former Lieutenant Governor M. L. Bruce will call the gathering to order and act as temporary chairman. Representative James Sherman has been selected to preside as permanent chairman.
The majority of the out-of-town delegates to the convention reached the city today. The prevailing opinion among them seems to be that the convention will be a quiet and harmonious affair. The Hughes boom will be given an enthusiastic send-off. It will be something in the nature of a birthday present for the governor, who will be forty-six years old tomorrow. The resolutions commending his administration as governor and endorsing him for the presidency will be as strong as they can be drawn up.
The governor will be asked to signify his choice of men for delegates-at-large. If he declines to interfere with what he may regard as the exclusive prerogative of the convention, then the convention will name the delegates to the national convention, and then the delegates will name the delegates to the national convention. The names of former Mayor Seth Low, former Lieutenant Governor Timothy L. Woodruff, President Jacob Gould Schurman of Cornell University and General Stewart L. Woodford, President of the National Hughes League are most frequently mentioned in connection with the honor. If ex-Governor Black would consent to serve as a member of the "big four" it is probable that he would be chosen in place of Seth Low or Dr. Schurman. It is said that Governor Hughes would personally like to have ex-Governor Black deliver the nominating speech at the Chicago convention.
One of the things that is most likely to impress itself upon the minds of the old-timers at tomorrow's convention will be the absence of Senators Platt and Depew. For many years past "Boss" Platt has absolutely dominated the republican state conventions in New York. He selected the delegates to the national conventions and framed the state tickets. For twenty years he and Senator Depew were two of the four delegates-at-large to the national convention.
Neither of the Senators will cut any figure in tomorrow's convention. They have gone down before the "new blood" that has come into control of the republican organization in this state. Either Senator can probably go to the national convention as a district delegate if he so desires, and an unlooked for turn in affairs might place either one or the other of them among the four delegates-at-large, but in either case it would be equally certain that neither of them will cut any figure so far as real influence goes.

SENATOR TILLMAN OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

Trenton, N. C., April 10.—Benjamin Ryan Tillman is resting quietly at his home here after a strenuous winter, which has led to symptoms of paralysis. The senator says he will never again enter active life. His physician says that any excitement or other exertion is liable to bring on a stroke of paralysis which will be disastrous. Mr. Tillman is known over the world for his vitriolic utterances. He is a staunch Democrat and a brilliant speaker. He was born in Edgefield county, S. C., 60 years ago. He left school at the age of 16 to join the Confederate army of 1862 to strike with a severe illness, which caused the loss of his left eye and kept him an invalid for two years. He has followed farming as a pursuit during the leisure moments of his life and took no active part in politics until he began the agitation in 1880 for industrial and technical education, which culminated in the establishment of the Clemson Agricultural and Mechanical college at Calhoun's old home, Fort Hill. The demand for educational reform broadened into a desire for other changes in state affairs and he was put forward by the farmers as a candidate for governor in 1888. After an exciting and heated canvass he received the nomination in the Democratic convention and was elected the following November. This was his first political office and he was re-elected in 1892 by an overwhelming vote. He entered the race for the senate against General Butler and the two canvassed the state county by county, with the result that Tillman was elected by the general assembly and was re-elected in 1901 and 1907. His present term will not expire until March 3, 1913, but it is expected he will be unable to continue his term of office.

TORPEDO BOAT DESTROYER TIGER, WHICH WAS WRECKED OFF THE ISLES OF WIGHT.

Portsmouth, England, April 10.—The British navy is in mourning on account of the disaster of April 3, which caused the death of 26 men and the loss of the torpedo boat destroyer Tiger. The accident occurred off the Isle of Wight as the boats were maneuvering without lights. The Tiger, in attempting to cross the bow of the British cruiser Berwick, was struck amidship and cut completely in two. The forepart of the ship sank immediately and all aboard that section were lost. The rear half floated a couple of minutes, long enough to enable men to grab life belts and jump into the water. Immediately boats were lowered from the Berwick and a large number of the crew who were in the water were saved.
The torpedo boat destroyer Tiger was one of the British navy's best and up to the time of the launching of the new turbine Tartar, was the pride of the navy. She was launched in 1900 and had a speed of 30 knots an hour. She carried 58 men at the time of her fatal accident. Her total length was 110 feet, breadth of beam 21 feet, and indicated horse power 6,400.

COUNCIL UNABLE TO MAKE CHOICE

AFTER BOLDLY SEIZING PREROGATIVE DENIED BY LAW.

OF NAMING POLICE CHIEF

Twenty-two Ineffectual Ballots Cast Before Motion to Adjourn Ended Tiresome Comedy.

"It would seem to me that in this instance we were getting ourselves into somebody else's boots. Neither the law nor the opinions of the foremost attorneys appear to give us any authority in the matter. We have a chief of police elected in accordance with the Revised Statutes and it is altogether likely that we are only setting a trap for ourselves when we attempt to undo what this legally constituted commission has done. THIS COUNCIL ALREADY HAS ON ITS HANDS ABOUT ALL IT CAN TAKE CARE OF. (Reads Sec. 959 of Laws of 1907.) Notice that the law gives the commission power in cities HOWEVER INCORPORATED. The section apparently covers all classes of cities. The contention that there is a distinction between chief of police and city marshal doesn't seem to me to have any weight. As in the case of any compensation, and salary, the commission are eyeing and any city attorney who holds them in the opinion filed with this council. We come here to appoint a new city marshal with nothing to back us up. I want to raise the divide. I am here contrary to my will. I was brought here. I didn't think we had any right to vote on this matter. The city attorney advised the council to concur in the appointment. That, of course, would do no harm. The audience out there or the people on the streets might concur in the appointment and it would probably make no difference either way. But when we attempt to do anything other than concur we are free to face with the question of our rights. We ought not to come here like a lot of calves to start something unless we have some right in the matter."—Alderman H. W. Brown's speech to the council.

Mayor Stewart B. Hodges was absent from the city and J. J. Dull, president of the council, occupied his chair when the special meeting to canvass the election returns and choose a city marshal was called to order last evening. The gallery was crowded with spectators. If they came to see the enactment of a ruling farce—"Our Precious Prerogatives," as dubbed by the disrespectful—none were doomed to disappointment. After the 21st ballot, however, the entertainment began to pall on the majority and at least fifty grabbed their hats and made for the exit.

Election Returns Canvassed
During the brief recess the Judiciary committee consisting of Aldermen Dull, Buchholz, and Sheldon, canvassed the election returns. The report to the council showed that James Patters was elected city treasurer by a vote of 1,092; Harry L. Minkfield, city attorney, by a vote of 1,095; Arthur M. Fisher, school commissioner at large, by a vote of 1,601; Stanley D. Tallman, justice of the peace, by a vote of 1,087; Charles H. Lange, justice of the peace, by a vote of 1,083; Wilbur F. Carle, as alderman of the 1st ward, by 225; Geo. O. Buchholz, as alderman of the 2nd ward, by a vote of 293 to 182 for E. C. Baumann; William W. Watt, as alderman of the 3rd ward, by a vote of 201; J. J. Sheridan, as alderman of the 4th ward, by a vote of 193; George W. Richardson, as alderman of the 5th ward, by a vote of 87; the Mitchell property purchase proposition lost by a vote of 655 to 519; and so forth. A resolution officially declaring the various officers elected, was passed.

Sheldon Counseled Delay
Acting Mayor Dull thereupon instructed his colleagues to prepare their ballots for city marshal. At this juncture Alderman Brown addressed the council. He was followed by Alderman Fred S. Sheldon, who said in part: "At a committee meeting during the last session, one of the members said that he had spoken to several lawyers and that they had advised him that we had the power to elect a city marshal. Now aside from the attorneys who are working directly for the several candidates, I have been unable to secure a statement from a single attorney that the council had this right. I was told by three of the best lawyers in the city that it would be an uphill fight and that they doubted whether our right could be established. In view of this, I think it would be wise for the council to appoint a committee to confer with three or more lawyers in the city and get some sort of a definite opinion. If we're going into a lawsuit we don't want to make a start before we know where we are. We wouldn't do it in our private business. I therefore move that the Judiciary committee be instructed to confer with three attorneys, get a written opinion, and report at the next meeting." Alderman Dull said that he interpreted the city attorney's opinion to mean that the council had the right. The commissioners hadn't consulted with the aldermen in making their selection. He didn't think the council was finding fault with the man in office, but the aldermen simply wanted to know who had the power. The attorney he had interviewed had told him that there wasn't a court in the United States which would grant such a power to an appointive body of men in preference to a body elected by the people. City Attorney Minkfield, when called upon for a statement, reiterated his opinion that Section 959-16 repeated that portion of the city charter which provides for the election of a city marshal, but that in view of the decision of the supreme court in the case of O'Connor vs. the City of Pond du Lac, there might be some question as to the constitutionality of the statute. However, that question must be left to the courts and until the statute had been declared void, the right to elect was with the first and police commission. He doubted if even the circuit court would declare it void, it being Judge Graham's policy to leave such constitutional questions to the highest tribunal. The vote on Alderman Sheldon's motion resulted in a tie, Aldermen Brown, Clark, Morrill, O'Hara, and Sheldon voting in the affirmative, and Aldermen Buchholz, Dull, Jones, Rehfeld, and Sheridan, voting in the negative. As Ald. Dull chose to vote on the question, he could not decide the tie. However, the motion had not carried and was declared lost. The voting then commenced.

Some of the Ballotings
The first ballot resulted as follows: John Brown, 3; Wallace Cochrane, 3; George Appleby, 1; Paddy McElroy, 1; Thomas Morrissey, 1; and Fred Henkel, 1. Second ballot—Brown, 4; Cochrane, 4; Appleby, 1; and Morrissey, 1. Third ballot—Brown, 5; Cochrane, 4; Morrissey, 1. Sixth ballot—Brown, 6; Cochrane, 4; Morrissey, 1. Eleventh ballot—Brown, 4; Cochrane, 2; Appleby, 2; Morrissey, 1; and Joseph L. Bear, 1. Twelfth ballot—Brown, 4; Appleby, 2; and Morrissey, 1. There was applause from the gallery when this announcement was made. Twelve votes were put in the hat on the 10th ballot and it had to be thrown out. Patrick Manning received one vote on the 21st. The twenty-second ballot: Brown, 4; Appleby, 2; Champion, 3; and 150 Trues. Alderman Sheldon moved to adjourn. The motion was carried 6 to 4, Dull, Jones, Rehfeld, and Sheridan voting in the negative. The fun, it is expected, will be resumed at the regular meeting next Monday night.

SACRIFICING CHRIST SUBJECT OF LECTURE

Reverend Denison Illustrates His Talk with Fifty of Tissot's Pictures.

At the Congregational church last night Mr. Denison gave a talk on "The Sacrificing Christ," illustrated by nearly fifty of Tissot's pictures. An audience that crowded the church pews was present. Through the use of the pictures in interpretation of the New Testament story it was shown that the sufferings of Christ came from natural causes such as the grossness, the selfishness, and the wickedness of the people of his time. Especially was this true of his closest friends who misunderstood him and talked him in the hour of his need. Another element in the suffering of Christ was that his sensitive and idealistic nature was thrust against the hardness, the materialism and the cruelty of the Roman world. This finally sent him to the cross. But much came out of his sufferings and in the end the life of love was shown to be the victorious life.

WILL MOVE TO THE NEW YARDS MONDAY

Formal Occupation of New Yards in South Janesville on April 13th.

Next Monday morning at seven o'clock the use of the old yards will be discontinued and the new sorting yards at South Janesville will be occupied. The date for moving was originally set for today, but on account of the difficulty in arranging the new train schedule, it was postponed. The double track from the north end of the Rock River bridge to the Belt Line Switch will be put in use then and the rest of the double track as fast as it is finished.

After Sunday all switching now done in the old yards will be done in the new sorting yards, which will be known as the South Janesville yards. The old yards will be gradually dismantled, the tracks taken up, except the double track, and some town tracks, and the shops and other buildings torn down or rented for other purposes. One switch-engine will continue to work here to handle the local freight between the freight depot and the South Janesville yards, but with that exception all work will be discontinued here in town.

The tower "YD" will also be closed and work now done there will be handled at the passenger station.

Straight Tips

TIP NO. 3.
We dress men with clothes that create a habit to wear none other. Frequently men choose well but not too wisely in the selection of their clothes. They fail to lay sufficient stress upon the importance of wearing becoming apparel. A certain fabric and style may look well on the short and stout man, while it would make the thin and lanky man look unbecomely. I dress every shape correctly and with due regard to all requirements.

CONSIDER USE OF GASOLINE MOTORS

ST. PAUL MAY INSTALL THEM BETWEEN JANESVILLE AND MADISON.

ON A FOUR HOUR SCHEDULE

Proposed Plan is to Run a Car from Each Terminal Every Four Hours.

Officials of the St. Paul road are now considering a plan to install a motor car service between Janesville and Madison. Under the schedule suggested a car would leave each terminal every four hours; that is, one would leave Madison at 6 a. m. and one would start from Janesville at 8 a. m. and so on during the day. The cars will not only stop at the regular stations where the trains now stop, but also at some of the road crossings and at all the summer resorts along the line. This would be very convenient for visitors to these places and would also be more convenient for people wishing to go to Janesville or Madison.

The indications are that the plan will be adopted.

PAVING-BIDS HAVE BEEN SUBMITTED

And Were Opened Today—Five Contracting Firms Are After the $7,000 Job.

Bids for paving work to be done on East Milwaukee street, and the city hall and Lincoln school alley at an estimated cost of $7,000, were opened at the city hall today. Dunn & Mead of Cleveland who did the work of Main and Milwaukee streets two years ago, Ryan McManis & Finley of Janesville, Fred Hildebrand of Milwaukee, Chris Johnson of Oshkosh, and P. W. Ryan of this city were the bidders. Owing to the several different factors which enter into the bidding, it had not been definitely determined at 3:30 this afternoon which was the lowest, though it lay between the first two firms mentioned above.

Mules Drew Wedded Pair.

Just after a newly married couple of Altoona, Pa., had entered their carriage to drive to the station to start on a wedding trip, friends unhitched the handsome pair and substituted a pair of mules. These attracted great attention as they hauled the pair through the streets.

In His Right Vocation.
A prominent western author has a bright son of 16, who is in a bank, and who also writes a verse occasionally which he submits to his father for criticism. Not long ago he handed him one which was returned with the remark: "That is positively bad." The boy looked at him questioningly. "You will have to change it before it will pass," continued his father. "But I can't change it if it is bad," said the boy, with a twinkle in his eye; and the father suggested that possibly his son knew more about banking than he did about poetry.

New Conception of Scotch Dialect.
Some years ago the college entrance requirements in English called for the "careful study" of four or five English classics, one of which was Carlyle's Essay on Burns. The applicants for admission to a certain Pennsylvania college were asked to make an estimate of the literary value of Burns' poetry. One aspirant for freshman standing concluded his little essay with the following remarkable sentence: "Burns would of been a far greater poet if he had not of used so much slang."—Harper's.

Children Should Be Models.
The kings of Persia place their children under the direction of four of the greatest men of the nation, viz., the most wise, the most just, the most temperate and the most courageous. The first teaches them religion. The second inculcates in them the strongest principles of truth and justice. From the third they learn to subdue their passions; and from the fourth they acquire a contempt of danger.

Austrian Railway and Picturesque Cut ting of the Existing Railway of Austria to Sarajevo.—The Emperor of Austria, the Emperor of Germany and the Sultan of Turkey.

Washington, D. C., March 16.—Diplomats of the various nations directly interested, as well as those not directly interested in the proposed Austrian railway from Sarajevo to Mitrovitz are wondering what the outcome of all the words combats between the interested powers is to be. There have been rumors of mobilization by the Russians and the Turks, Germany, because of its interest in the Sultan of Turkey, is believed to favor the scheme. The good will of the Sultan is essential to the furtherance of Germany's Baghdad railway scheme. Russia dislikes in no undecided manner the schemes of Austria, and if it were carried through the czar would demand an offset his project of a railway from the Danube to the Montenegro coast. This scheme would give Russia a strategic outlet to the Adriatic and would render her practically independent of the Balkan states. The situation is further complicated by an action on the part of Germany, which is believed to be contrary to the spirit of the Monrovia agreement of the emperor for the polling of Macedonia by the powers. Baron Aehrenthal has rejected the British proposal to give full control of the foreign officers of the gendarmerie in suppressing the bands, and railway scheme.

SURELY WE LIVE IN BUSY AGE.

Recent Incident Has Convinced One Man of the Fact.

"This is a busy age, sure enough," said a man who prides himself on keeping in touch with old friends. "We get new proofs of it every day. Not only do we find that we ourselves have less and less time to devote to this, that and the other thing, but we have it brought in upon us that everybody is pretty much in the same fix."

"The other morning I had a letter from a chap whom I know pretty well. I say it was a letter—it was and it wasn't, and in that contradiction lies the point of my remark. A bit of good fortune had happened to him; he had been given a position that counted for a lot, and his home paper had printed an item about it. Wanting to tell me of his luck, he had clipped the item from the sheet, pasted it on a piece of paper, and forwarded it to me with his initials scrawled across the bottom. Five years ago he would have sat down and written me. Now he uses shears and paste. Oh! it's all right; I got the information and that's the main thing. But we're all pretty busy, aren't we?" he concluded.

Gulf Discovered Between "Systematized Charity" and Christianity.

A Chinaman who was kindly disposed had a dog. He loved dogs. One evening he cut off the tail of the dog and ate it for supper. It was a sweet little dog—so he gave it the bone for its supper.

A Caucasian who saw this said: "You are pauperizing that dog. Providence in its infinite wisdom committed that tail to you—as a trust. We would have inquired if the dog was a deserving dog and investigated as to whether he had other means of support, or relatives who would take care of him; if we found that he had none we would have tabulated his case and judiciously given him one jolt of the bone per week."

The Chinaman asked: "Is that the Christianity?"

"Well, no, it is not exactly Christianity," said the Caucasian, "but an outgrowth of it, which we call 'Systematized Charity.'"

Said the Chinaman: "That is better than heathenism—it is cheaper."—Philadelphia Ledger.

In a short time they were boon companions, but on the first warm day Fido gave Marjorie a fright that almost deprived her of speech. "O, mother," she gasped, running into the house, "Come quick, Fido's tongue is falling out!"

THE SOUTH IS GOING DRY.

Lay the best about the Julep in the campfire hills at last. For the miracle has happened and the olden days are passed.

That which made Milwaukee famous doesn't form in Tennessee.

And the 1st in Alabama is as tight as a drum.

And the comic paper Colonel and his cronies well may sigh.

For the light is waving gaily, and the south is going dry.

But the stillside on the hillside in Kentucky, all is still.

And the only damp refreshment must be dipped up from the rill.

North Carolina's stately governor gives his soda glass a shove.

And discusses local option with the South Carolina Gov.

It is useless at the fountain to be whiffling of the eye.

For the cocktail glass is dusty and the south is going dry.

It is water, water everywhere, and not a drop to drink.

We no longer hear the music of the mellow crystal clink.

When the Colonel and the General and the Major and the Judge meet to have a little nip to give the appetite an edge.

For the evening now is nogless and the rye has gone awry.

And the punchbowl holds carnations and the south is going dry.

—The Voice.

THE PROHIBITION MOVEMENT

The fact that a crusade is going on all over the country, just now, against the sale of intoxicants, leads some people to believe that the prohibition party, as a political organization, is behind the movement, and largely responsible for its popularity.

This is not true, for the prohibition party, as such, never cast but two per cent of the nation's vote, in its palmy days, and will be represented by less than half that strength in the national campaign this year.

This country has been absorbed in a law and order campaign, for the past four years, and the people have been stimulated and encouraged by the most aggressive leader that the nation ever produced.

The keynote of the movement was business morality and as the public conscience was quickened, men, who for years had occupied positions of trust in life insurance, and other great corporations, came to realize that they no longer enjoyed public confidence.

The standard of right and wrong was so elevated, that some of these men were made bankrupt in meeting the new demands, while other fled the country, or died prematurely under the strain.

The "merger" and wholly combine felt the effects of the awakening, while railroads and monopolies, realized for the first time that rebelling was the most heinous crime in the calendar.

Under the pressure of this new and gigantic force, the water and much of the meat was squeezed out of stocks, and gilt-edge bonds became a drug on the market.

The people were seized with a mania to regulate everything in sight, and erratic legislation followed in many states. Corporate wealth became a by-word and great fortunes dwindled away, like dew in the morning sun.

When the panic struck the country, last October, it found this legislative movement at high tide. Six months of depression and liquidation followed, and the people are just beginning to realize that responsibility for conditions is widespread, yet the feeling generally prevails, that the final outcome of all this disturbance will be helpful and wholesome.

As to the temperance question, it was perfectly natural that while so many lines of business were being reformed, that the saloon should receive its full share of attention.

The American saloon stands in a class by itself, and is unlike any other business. It pays a liberal license and is restricted by all sorts of regressive laws, because of the lawlessness connected with the traffic.

It is an unpopular business, opposed by the women of the nation, and enjoying only a minority patronage of the men.

Its influence is recognized as not only harmful to society, but detrimental to business as well, and so the railroads and other large employers of labor place a ban upon the saloon, and refuse work to men who patronize the business.

The crusade against the saloon is a part of the law and order campaign. There is so much to be said against the business, and so little to recommend it to favor, that the conflict will continue until it is eradicated from the towns and villages, and what is left of it in the cities will be as well regulated and law abiding as any other line of business.

The reason why this movement is so popular, is because it is free from politics and political influence. The prohibition party, as an organization, has had less to do with it than either the republican or democratic parties, because through its numerical weakness it is in no condition to exert influence.

All over the south where the movement has been the absorbing issue, every state convention has been committed to a prohibition policy, by democratic party in control, and the strength of a candidate depended largely on his avowed determination to meet his rival and go him one better, on temperance reform.

The Wall Street Journal is solicitous to know what the national conventions will do with the question. They will recognize it as a law and order issue, for the people just now are in no mood to tolerate lawlessness and many of the states are already committed on the temperance question, and their representatives will not be disposed to dodge the issue.

The common council can hardly afford to contest the action of the fire and police commission. This new board is a part of the state civil service reform equipment, and its work should not be criticized until thoroughly tried out. A good man has been elected to the office of city marshal, and if he fails in duty, there will be ample time for the council to protest. In the meantime he is entitled to loyal support.

The much advertised coal strike did not materialize, and the chances are that it will be indefinitely postponed. There are too many idle factories and engines just now, and the supply of fuel is far in excess of demands. Under those conditions it is a poor time to strike.

The aftermath of the recent panic, differs from any other ever experienced in this country. When industries are depressed and labor unemployed, a weak market follows as the natural result, but today, when thousands of men are idle, prices are not only firm, but in many lines are advancing, and the cost of living is greater than it was a year ago.

If the republicans of New York honor Governor Hughes with support in the national convention, it will be because of state policy rather than love for their candidate. Governor Hughes is destitute of policy, and he possesses the faculty of courting unpopularity in almost every measure which he supports.

Fastidious Cabman.
An old lady about to hire a cab in London asked the cabman if he could take her to Trafalgar square. The cabman replied: "No, mum. I can't and I wouldn't if I could, and the next time you want to eat onions bile 'um!"

Heed Not That Call.
It is a terrible error to suppose that because you relish "Wordsworth's solemn-thoughted idyl, or Tennyson's enchanted reverie," therefore you have a call to run off to write bad verse at the lakes or the Isle of Wight. I beseech you not all to turn to authorship.—John Morley.

HUGHES KEEPS UP WAR ON GAMBLING

SENDS RED HOT MESSAGE TO NEW YORK LEGISLATURE.

TO CALL EXTRA SESSION

Governor's Communication Surprises the Lawmakers and is Bitterly Resented by Opponents of His Policy.

Albany, N. Y., Apr. 10.—Any expectation that a bill would follow the storm of Wednesday in the legislature when the senate by a tie vote defeated the anti-race-track gambling legislation desired by Gov. Hughes, was dispelled at the opening of the session Thursday morning in dramatic fashion.

Hardly had either house convened before the secretary to the governor marched up the aisle with a "communication" in writing from the governor. When read in each house the "communication" proved to be a special message couched in the governor's most direct and vigorous style, declaring first that Wednesday's vote in the senate could not be regarded as disposing of the anti-gambling question, and also calling attention to several other matters upon which the governor believes the legislature should pass before final adjournment.

Special Election and Session. Almost simultaneously with the sending of the message to both houses the governor caused it to be made known that it was his intention to proclaim a special election, probably on May 12, in the Niagara-Ontario senatorial district to fill the vacancy in the senate caused by the recent death of Senator Fanchot of Niagara Falls. At the same time he put forth also the intimation that he would probably call an extraordinary session of the legislature to convene on Monday evening, May 11.

The announcement of the special election was the subject of more than ordinary interest in the legislature, especially because of the hearing this might have on the anti-gambling bills should they be presented at the proposed extraordinary session in view of the possibility that the bills might gain a supporter in the new senator.

McCarren Attacks Governor. The senate especially received the message with every evidence of surprise. A number of senators on both sides were absent and those who were there were plainly jaded by the long struggle of Wednesday.

Senators Grady and McCarren, who were leaders in the successful opposition to the gambling bills, took the occasion to make bitter attacks upon Gov. Hughes. Senator McCarren suggested "that a respectful message be sent to the governor advising him to mind his own business."

Senator Bates, the majority leader, promptly resented this manner of receiving the message and upon his motion the various recommendations were referred, each to the place or committee where stand the matters to which it alludes.

In the assembly the message caused no less of a sensation. After it had been read Minority Leader Palmer moved that certified copies of the vote of the assembly on the anti-gambling bills be sent to the governor, "so that we shall have to stand no more lectures on that subject." Majority Leader Merritt objected and the message was then ordered printed and laid upon the table.

ROYAL
Baking Powder
Absolutely Pure

Not only for rich or fine food or for special times or service. Royal is equally valuable in the preparation of plain, substantial, every-day foods, for all occasions. It makes the food more tasty, nutritious and wholesome.

Unrequited Genius.
The world has never learned the name of the genius who conceived the idea of spreading butter upon his bread, a combination of food elements more palatable, more wholesome and more universally popular than any that the combined wisdom of all the professors who have ever lived has been able to devise.—The Epitaph.

Editor Rose to the Occasion.
On last Saturday evening, while the golden sun was gently thrusting forth its soothing beams, "Squire H. P. Bushong" pleasantly pronounced the beautiful and heart-warming phrases that made Mr. Enoch Hubbard and Miss Stella Candy man and wife.—Medina Correspondence Princeton (N. Y.) Post.

Make Tours in Caravans.
In Europe house, cars or caravans are rapidly passing from experimental to practical use. One popular car contains a completely equipped kitchen and sleeping berths for six persons, and has seats on top like the old London busses.

A Man's Life.
My life—a man's life—is always, and especially to-day, a poor a thing enough, but this poor thing, consecrated to a great and holy cause, may grow with it; and when a man has made to such a cause the sacrifice of his future, I believe that he ought to shrink from none of its consequences, none of its dangers.—Comte de Montalembert.

First Greek Letter Society.
Kappa Alpha Theta was the first Greek letter society in the United States organized for women and was founded at De Pauw university, at Greencastle, Ind., on January 27, 1870. The Phi Beta Phi was first organized at Monmouth, Ill., April, 1867, but was known for a number of years as the I. C. sorority.

Tasty Wall Hangings

Our selections for this season we unhesitatingly assert are superior in artistic merit and quality to any ever shown in Janesville. Our magnificent collection of imported papers are from the best German and English manufacturers, and, of course, are printed in oil, thus making them permanent in color. The new line we are showing of leather papers is unsurpassed in book county, suitable for library, hall and dining room.

We Are Also Displaying

a grand collection of two-tone and silk effects for the parlor. For the bedroom we have dainty florals and stripes in charming combinations, with grotesques to match. For the bathroom and kitchen a superb stock of sanitos and varnish tile. As always, our prices are unapproachable. Let us figure with you.

HAVE YOU SEEN TEKKO

"Tekko" is the Mural Art Exhibit—the unusual display of original importations in Wall Decorations. Our new "Tekko" Book contains:
"Tekko"—hand-drawn illustrations of rich and artistic.
Japanese, Spanish, and Venetian leather effects—quite new, very select, and exclusive.
All original and distinctive decorative schemes that enable you to break entirely away from the commonplace.
These rich and unusual effects can be seen in but one place—i. e., in our new "Tekko" Book—which our agent will gladly show you, on request.

The furnishings of your home bespeak the character of the owner. The walls are the most prominent part of a room. With the outlay of a little money, and good judgment the walls can be decorated tastefully yet inexpensively.

This year we are showing neyer, nicer wall hangings than ever before. Our stock and samples are so conveniently arranged for showing that you will find it enjoyable indeed to make your selections here. We are pleased to show our designs and there is such a range of patterns that you will surely find something to meet your views. We say it's a pleasure to show them—we will make it our pleasure and yours too if you will call.

Not Drifting

There is such a thing as drifting in business and professional life. Just looking along day by day, taking things as they come. Such a course does not get a man anywhere except nearer to the poorhouse. Dr. Richards in his Dental work is not a drifter.

He has a definite Policy.

He works towards an end.

That end is

To please his every patient just a little better than his competitors.

Does this policy win?

The facts are, his Dental practice has grown during the last seven years until he has by far the largest Dental business in Janesville.

Good work will win out.

Vigilant effort to avoid hurting also wins out.

Reasonable prices ought to appeal to your better judgment also.

Try him for your next Dental work, and you too will be convinced that he makes good.

POSTAL THIEVES

ROBBED THE MAIL

STOLE TWO BAGS FROM DEPOT

PLATFORM LAST NIGHT.

EMPTY BAGS FOUND TODAY

Cut Them Open, Only to Be Disappointed at the Contents, Which Were Papers.

Two sacks of second class mail containing papers, evidently from the North and blotted through to the New England states, were stolen from the North-Western depot platform last evening and the empty sacks ripped and torn open, with contents dumped on the ground, were found this morning. One was in the rear of the Wisconsin Carriage Company's factory and the other in the rear of E. H.

Haldwin's residence, No. 12 Linn street.

Not Missed

The sacks came in with other mail at eight-thirty from the Wisconsin division and were thrown on the platform to be placed on the southbound

Chicago train which passes through here shortly after four. Night

Inspector Mike Daley is supposed to have charge of the mail that is in transfer and evidently the two sacks were stolen while he was otherwise engaged and were not missed when the mail was forwarded this morning.

Contained Papers

The sacks stolen appear to have contained only newspapers, several of board's Dairymen being found adressed to eastern and New England states. It is not thought that there was any first class mail in the sacks

as they were the common second class variety fastened with a pull string and patent catch. The thieves cut the strings and ripped the sacks

open evidently at the first convenient spot and then carried the other papers away from the depot to investigate that.

Gathered Up

Postmaster Valentine was notified of the finding of the sacks and immediately notified the officials at Chicago and they will doubtless send a man here to investigate. The police were also notified and gathered up what mail that could be found and returned it to the postoffice, where it was sorted and sent to its destination

as far as possible.

No Clue

Both Postmaster Charles Valentine

and City Marshal Appleby are of the opinion that the theft was that of boys or hoboes and that no one familiar with the mail or contemplating a robbery of valuable packages would have selected sacks which they must have known contained only second class matter. The police are investigating several clues.

Opening the racing season at New York—Following the meeting at Houlting, Washington, the first race meet in the North and East, after winter racing at New Orleans and in the West, comes the Carter Handicap at Aqueduct, near New York.

We have been able to secure the Sample Line of Black Taffeta and Colored Petticoats

—OF THE—
Standard Skirt Co., Detroit, Mich.

We shall place these skirts

On Sale Saturday at 1-3 Off from the regular selling price. Each skirt is a well made model of a very good quality of Taffeta, full and fluffy. The STANDARD skirts have been known for years as a good petticoat—selling for $4.50 to $8.00 and worth the price. In securing these samples we bought at prices which enables us to sell at 1-3 off and leave some margin for us. This opportunity comes just before Easter and we anticipate a good brisk sale. This is a saving without a risk because you know the quality of the petticoats. Come early.

A WHIRLWIND OF
VIGOROUS VALUES

MILL ENDS Where Do They Come From? What Do They Mean?

Mill Ends mean goods that fall short of full pieces. Identical in quality, style and design with the full piece still not to be classed with regular goods. A thread missing in napkins, a slight discoloration in some fabric, crooked stitching in underwear, a coarse thread in hose.

None of these slight flaws matter to the customer, but they prevent the mill or factory from selling the goods at a profit.

IT MEANS the remnant product of many mammoth mills and factories will be laid before you at mill cost and less.

IT MEANS the lowest prices ever given on reliable merchandise.

IT MEANS we have the merchandise to back up every price in this advertisement.

IT MEANS not a low price on a few things but a Mill End Sale of everything you may need for yourself and for your family.

How to Resist Colds.

Medical science is now nearly unanimous in its belief that colds are acquired by infection, just like measles or scarlet fever. They run through schools and factories and families. Folk who lead outdoor lives and dwell in well ventilated houses are least susceptible to them if they do not underfeed or overindulge in alcohol and if they do not pile on so much clothing that the splendid armor of the human skin is pampered and weakened. Plenty of cold bathing and exercise, light underwear, free use of water inside and outside of the body and sleeping with wide-open windows will help them to resist the infection.

The Mocking Bird.

Of song birds the mocking bird is easily king. The skylark and nightingale deserve all of the praise that the poets have given them. They are sweet songsters, indeed, but when it comes to a contest with the mocking bird their famed laurels wither away. In its variety, range, volume and sweetness, the song of the mocking bird has no equal in the feathered kingdom. To hear the "falling song" of the mocking bird on a moonlight night in June is to hear that which never yet came from throat of skylark or nightingale.—N. Y. American.

Made with stays either 12 or 6 in. apart. The above cut shows 12 in. stays. The swinging joint in the Apex fence makes it adjustable to rough and hilly ground without bending the fence.

In addition to the advantage of its "Swinging Joint" and re-inforced, non-slippable, continuous stay wires, Apex fence is constructed with top and bottom wires of No. 9, intermediate wires of No. 11, and stays of No. 12 wire, making it as heavy as any standard fence on the market.

The wire used in its construction is especially tempered and heavily galvanized, and the fence is absolutely guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in every respect.

VESSEL OWNERS FOR "OPEN SHOP"

WILL BE INDEPENDENT OF LABOR UNIONS ON LAKES.

RULE EFFECTIVE AT ONCE

Stand Taken by the Carriers' Association to Retain Complete Control of Their Own Boats.

Cleveland, O., Apr. 10.—The "open shop" policy will be adhered to by vessel owners, in the operation of boats upon the great lakes this season. A stand of this character in dealing with organized labor was unanimously agreed to at the annual meeting of the Lake Carriers' association here Thursday.

The rule will be put into operation at once and will affect upward of 40,000 men. Whether the plan adopted by the boat owners will be opposed by the various unions is unknown. None of their representatives was present at the meeting.

While the carriers do not take the position of being antagonistic to organized labor, they say employees will be dealt with individually, irrespective of their labor affiliations. The vesselmen also recommended the paying of the highest wages.

One Company Leads the Way.

The first move along this line was taken Wednesday when the Pittsburgh Steamship company, operating the boats of the United States Steel corporation, made contracts with their engineers individually. No trouble was experienced.

The Cleveland interests agreed a few weeks ago to ignore the unions and it was through their efforts that the association was induced to adopt the same measure, thus affecting all ports and practically all of the tonnage on the lakes.

Want to Control Their Own Boats.

The action of the association is based upon the declared desire to retain complete control of their boats and place the discipline of the ships within the power of the executive officers.

The only public expression made by the officers of the association regarding the action taken is embodied in the resolutions adopted, in part as follows:

"In order to give the owner control of the ships it is resolved that the owners do now declare that the 'open shop' principle be adopted; that the discipline of the ships be placed in the hands of the executive officers; that appropriate wages be tendered; and that all of the members of the association adhere to this policy."

Says It Means a Strike.

Detroit, Mich., Apr. 10.—Recording Secretary Olander of the Lake Steamship's union, declared Thursday night that the adoption of the "open shop" policy and an attempt to enforce it will mean a strike of the season and foremen.

The season's union has about 16,000 members and the Marine Firemen have about 4,000. Each organization has about $40,000 in its reserve fund.

Fire Drill Saves Pupils.

Denver, Col., Apr. 10.—A well-conducted fire drill at the Fleming school in South Denver, saved 100 little children from death or injury Thursday when an overhauled furnace set fire to the building. Presence of mind on the part of Miss Katherine Harris, in whose room the fire started, in all probability prevented a disaster.

Killed by an Automobile.

Toledo, O., Apr. 10.—Walter Hobson, a laborer, from Bay City, Mich., was run over and killed by an automobile driven by Austin Leckleider, chauffeur for Fred T. Stalberg, here Thursday afternoon.

Shot to Death by His Partner.

Bellefontaine, O., Apr. 10.—Salvatore Cirio, an Italian fruit merchant, was shot to death in his store Thursday by his youngest partner, Charles Denier, aged 18, who claims self-defense.

CHICAGO BROKER A SUICIDE

LORENZO D. KNEELAND KILLS HIMSELF BY SHOOTING.

Long Illness Had Made Him Despondent—Was Well-Known Financier and Club Man.

Chicago, Apr. 10.—Lorenzo D. Kneeland, former senior member of the firm of Kneeland, Clement & Curtis, brokers, committed suicide at his home, 4932 Lake avenue, Thursday by shooting himself in the head with a revolver. The bullet penetrated the brain, causing instant death. Mr. Kneeland was a member of the Chicago board of trade and the Chicago stock exchange. He retired from active business about two years ago. The act of self-destruction came as a profound shock to financial and other business circles.

Recently Mr. Kneeland applied for more life insurance, but the insurance company refused to accept him, and that is said to have led to despondency. He was in La Salle street for a little while Wednesday, and his friends were startled by his debilitated appearance.

After retiring from the brokerage firm Mr. Kneeland interested himself in the mining business in Colorado. He was engaged in this business for over a year and retained his interests until the time of his self-destruction.

For years Mr. Kneeland had been identified with La Salle street financial circles, his retirement from the firm leading to a change to the present name of Clement, Curtis & Co. He was a member of the Chicago club, the Union League club and the Chicago Athletic association.

LAYS IT ALL TO WHITNEY.

Ryan Denies Knowledge of $500,000 Political Campaign Fund.

New York, Apr. 10.—Thomas P. Ryan Thursday threw cold water on the recently published story to the effect that he had instigated before a special grand jury that $500,000 of Metropolitan Street railway money, ostensibly used for the purchase of the Wall and Cortland street ferries line, had gone into a political campaign fund. Mr. Ryan was a witness in the Harmon municipal court in a damage suit brought against certain directors of the street railway company and was questioned at length about the $500,000 fund. He said that such a fund was made up, but he had no idea what was done with it, except that it was paid "for the benefit of the company."

"It was paid to William C. Whitney," said Mr. Ryan. "He suggested that we put in $100,000 apiece for the company. That was in 1899 or 1900. There was no entry made in the Metropolitan Street railway company's books." He said the only information concerning the disposition made of the fund was given him by Mr. Whitney, who, he said, was the controlling spirit of the company.

LONG BATTLE WITH ICE.

Two Car Ferries Have Hard Work Reaching Green Bay.

St. Paul, Minn., Apr. 10.—A special from Menominee, Mich., tells of the hard battle of two car ferries with the ice on Lake Michigan, that lasted 48 hours. After having failed in their first attempt to open navigation to Menominee, Ann Arbor car ferries Nos. 2 and 3 left Frankfort, Mich., for another attempt and reached the entrance to Green Bay. No ice was encountered until opposite Cedar river, and then the long and desperate battle with the ice began and lasted 48 hours. The boats worked slowly, making the remaining 20 miles to the city through ice fields piled high in windrows from four to twenty feet thick.

Dies, Leaving 201 Descendants.

Burlington, Ind., Apr. 10.—Mrs. Rachael Isenberger of Niota, Ill., died Thursday at the age of 87 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Rachael McCaskill, who lives in Burlington. Mrs. Isenberger leaves 14 children and 201 descendants, extending over five generations.

Mrs. Russell Sage Gives $250,000.

Princeton, N. J., Apr. 10.—At a meeting of the board of trustees of Princeton university Thursday, announcement was made of the gift of $250,000 from Mrs. Russell Sage for a dormitory building to be used by members of the freshmen class.

FIRST COST AND REPAIRS.

Farmers sometimes buy inferior separators, believing they are getting something lower in first cost. This is an error. A Sharples Tubular is lower in first cost than any other separator. Perhaps some other separator is quoted equal in capacity to the Sharples, at a lower price. But calling a separator a given capacity does not make it such. It is easy to put a larger faucet on a separator and run more milk through; but that does not make its real capacity larger. The real capacity is the ability to skim a given amount of milk clean in a given time, with a given amount of power. We rate our machines very low to give reserve capacity, clean skimming and easy turning. Other concerns rate their machines much higher, thus while asking as much, or even more, seem to be selling cheaper. Such a machine will not skim clean nor turn easily.

No matter for what you can buy another separator, we guarantee to sell you a better, larger capacity machine for less money paid down.

Another point: If you buy a Sharples Tubular Separator, you will have very few, if any, repairs to make. It is so simple, so strong, so perfectly made, so different from troublesome "bucket bowl" styles, that years often pass without a single cent being spent for anything but oil.

Why not write for our little booklet and examine into the merits of this machine—do it now while its on your mind and buy when you are convinced that it will save you money. Call and see me or drop a postal.

Money-Making Ways of Using Want Ads

To Buy or Sell a Stove

Stoves are quite an item in the furnishing of a home. To save money, buy second hand Stoves. Insert a title Want Ad under the heading, "Stoves," on our Classified page, like the one shown to the left in examples below. You will be surprised to find out a number of people who have Stoves to Sell. Get instead of wanting to Buy a Stove, you have one to Sell. Do the same thing—insert a little Want Ad under "Stoves," stating what you have. The cost in either case amounts to a fraction of a dollar. Many people make a lot of just buying and selling Stoves in a week. And they make money at it. These little ads are read each day by home people. Watch the "Stoves" column each day, if you want to Buy or Sell a Stove.

EXAMPLES

WANTED—TO BUY TWO STOVES, ONE FOR heating and one for cooking. No preference as to brand but must be in good condition and reasonable in price. Address H 44 24, this office.

WILL MAKE—BANK BURNER STOVE, NEW, REFRIG., at less than wholesale. Committed to break up newly furnished home. Other stoves also. Address H 51 26, this office.

THREE LINES, THREE TIMES, TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Little Want Ads may well be termed, "fuss" and worry KILLERS. Something comes up that has not been foreseen—you must move, you must find a new home, your best employe has just left, you are out of a position, you want to "trade" something, you must sell something you prize, you must have money, and dozens of other such WANTS. Let our little Want Ads do your WORRYING for you. It's CHEAPEST.

COFFEE MATCHED AT LAST

A Test Package Mailed Free.

A new product—Dr. Shop's Health Coffee—is said to be closely such of Java and Mocha Coffee in flavor, taste, and aroma, as to be scarcely discernible from the very best brands of real Coffee.
"And yet," says Dr. Shop, "Health Coffee has not even a grain of real Coffee in it."
I make my Coffee infusion from pure, healthful, roasted grains or Cereals, with malt, sugar, etc. This is why I have named it Health Coffee.

Again, the tedious 20 or 30 minutes wait necessary in preparing other Coffee substitutes is mostly saved. My new Health Coffee infusion is made in exactly one minute—in 60 seconds.

If Coffee drinking makes you dull and

Principal Losers in Brooklyn Fire
Were Evansville Men.

Evansville, April 9.—V. C. Holmes and L. A. Bull left last evening for Brooklyn, Wis., and expect to be gone about a month. Mr. Holmes has a large holding of land there and his purpose in going is to survey the lake front, with the view of making it a summer resort. Mr. Holmes expects to go Monday for a two weeks' stay and at the close of the school year the family will go there to spend the summer months.

"DANCING"—SUBJECT OF HART'S SERMON

Methodist Church Filled with Enthusiastic Audience to Hear Noted Speaker.

Last night the biggest week night crowd assembled to "hear Hart" on dancing. The great audience listened for nearly two hours with rapt attention.

Mr. Hart took his text from Gal.
6:5—"Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap."

A few seeds of wild oats will produce a terrible harvest. A man is never the same after he sows them.

The seed of the dance produces death, physical, moral and spiritual. It is harmful to the body, doctors condemn it harmful to the soul. There is poison in the ball room. Read "From the Ball Room to Hell." It is the pastime of savages. It doesn't require brains or culture to dance. Dancing is so fascinating as to exclude the soul from Jesus Christ.

"The dance is proportionately damning more young women than the sawdust is young men. The Bible condemns the dance as a sinful and harmful thing. 'There is a time to kill.'"
"Knowing that for all these things God will bring you into judgment,"
"Flee him with dance" is to flee with some musical instrument. According to the marginal reading. The religious dances had none of the religiousness and none of the associations of the modern dance.

The Bible is very clear about dancing and lustful dances—Ex. 23:19, Job 31. The dance of the daughter of Herodias caused the death of John the Baptist. Men cry to churches,
"Let down the bars." Yet there are 500,000 fallen women in this country and 250,000 of them have sworn that they took their first private step in a private ball.

"The dance is fashionable," Yes,
and it is fashionable for some to admire a dog for a child. The dress of the dance first men's passions. This dress was born in a low theatre in Vienna. "Dance produces death." But grace of heart is what is needed. The grace of body will follow. The liberties allowed in the dance will be tolerated in no other place. They are wrong except between the husband and wife.

The world says the church is not too strict. These are dancers that are pure, but the dance is impure. "The dance leads work for souls." The leading churches of the country condemn the dance. Mr. Hart then quoted from Roman Catholic bishops, especially from the bishops of Baltimore, from Episcopal bishops, referring to one who has his personal friend. From the deliverances of the Presbyterian general assemblies, Congregational and Baptist associations, and Methodist conferences. Through all the sermon not one unkind word was spoken. The vast audience listened with profound attention.

MINSTREL SHOW WAS GIVEN BY THE BAND

Edgerton Cornet Band Gives Fifth Annual Show Before a Crowded House.

Edgerton, April 10.—The 5th annual Minstrel Show, given by the Edgerton cornet band, drew a full house on Wednesday evening, and most applause was awarded their successful efforts at entertaining. The following program was rendered: Introductions, entire company; Every Day She Wanted Something; Elsie,
P. Lyon; When Autumn Turns the Green Leaves Gold, L. Dickinson;
I'm Afraid to Come Home in the Dark,
H. Raymond; Brother Noah Gave Out
Cheeks (for rain), F. Williams; Dreaming, F. McElroy; Me and the Minstrel Band, entire company. In the first two the three entitled "The Coming Man" was a very clever sketch and a decided hit with the audience in which, Geo. Pollard did double duty as Shadow and Booth Barrett, while Frank Williams was a perfect coon in the role of Duce Johnson.
John Dickinson, the professional comic, and Geo. and Ray Carson, the eccentric, did some of the funniest bit skits by far. H. Raymond and light-swinging by Dr. McElroy. The program closed with three numbers rendered by the entire band of twenty-two pieces.

Living Like a King on 12

Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, three times a day, with milk or cream and a little fruit, will supply all the strength needed by man or woman for work or play at a total cost of not over 12 cents. And you would be living better than a King—for it would bring good digestion and good health.

For breakfast heat the Biscuit in oven, pour milk over it (hot milk in winter) and add a little cream. If you like the Biscuit for breakfast you will like toasted TRISCUIT (the Shredded Wheat wafer) for luncheon or any meal with butter, cheese or marmalade. At your grocers.

FACTS ABOUT NEW THEORY SECURED BY INTERVIEWS

People Tell the Reason for Their Faith in Cooper's Relief.

An article from the Nashville, Tenn. Banner, published during L. T. Cooper's visit to that city, throws some light on the remarkable success of the young man's theories and medicines in various cities visited by him during the past year. The article is as follows:

"In view of the enormous sale of Cooper's preparations now going on in this city and the intense interest which Mr. Cooper has stirred up since his arrival, a representative of the Banner spent Thursday afternoon at the young man's headquarters, watching the swarm of humanity come and go.

"During the afternoon the reporter interviewed many of the callers and obtained statements from all who cared to give them as to their experience with Cooper and his preparations.

"The following are selected from those statements as being typical of the general expression of the people here:

"Mr. D. B. Laster, living at 1224 North Fourth avenue, when interviewed, said: 'I have been troubled with my stomach for the past two years, and have had rheumatism for more than five years. Sometimes I could not walk, and there were times when I could not even move in bed. Hard knots would form on my muscles, which caused me intense pain. Gas formed on my stomach after eating, which gave me much pain and distress, and often I was restless and tossed all night, losing much sleep and rest.

"Hearing of Mr. Cooper and the great work his medicine was accomplishing for others, I decided to try it. I have taken it about two weeks, and find myself in a greatly improved condition. My stomach is in good shape, and does not trouble me at all. My rheumatism has nearly disappeared, and I expect to resume work shortly, for the first time in twelve months. Mr. Cooper certainly has a wonderful medicine, and I am grateful for what it has done for me.

"Another caller was Mrs. T. J. Smith, of 505 Hudson street. She said: 'I have been a sufferer from bladder and kidney trouble for twenty-five years. In that time I have tried many prescriptions and various kinds of medicine, but received little or no benefit from them. I seldom had a sound night's sleep, my rest being broken at intervals throughout the night. I had pains in my back and burning sensations.

"I heard so much of Mr. Cooper that I came to the conclusion he might be able to afford me some relief. I have now been taking the medicine about a week, and feel better in every way. The pain has disappeared, and I have no distress whatever. I have come here today to express my appreciation to Mr. Cooper for his wonderful medicine and what it has done in my case. I will take pleasure in recommending it to others.

"In spite of assertions by various physicians that Cooper is a fad who will soon die out, the young man seems to be gaining even greater headway as his visit draws to a close.

"The agency for Cooper's celebrated medicine has been given to us. We are making a fine record with them.

THE CAPTAIN OF the KANSAS

By LOUIS TRACY.

Author of "The Wings of the Morning," "The Pillar of Light," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY EDWARD J. CLODE

Between Elsie and De Pollicelli the chorus made quite a respectable din. Few noticed that the salon main companion had been opened again until the sharp bark of a dog joining in the hand clapping turned every eye toward the stairway. Captain Courtney was descending. In front ran Joey, who of course imagined that the plaudits of the audience demanded recognition. Courtney had removed his slippers before leaving the bridge. His dark blue uniform was flecked with white foam, and a new sweater was tied under his chin; otherwise his appearance gave little sign of the wild tumult without. Joey, on the other hand, was a very wet dog and inclined to be snappy.

"I regret to have to inform you," said Courtney, with the measured deliberation of a man who has made up his mind exactly what to say, "that the ship has been disabled by some accident, the cause of which is unknown at present. The unfortunate result is that she is in a position of some peril."

There was a sudden stir among the Chilean stewards, whose eyes were sharpened sufficiently to read the captain's statement quite clear to them. Isabel uttered a little sob of terror, and Mrs. Somerville gasped audibly.

"Oh, my poor children!" Elsie, her lips parted, sat forward on the piano stool. Her senses seemed to have become intensified all at once. She could see everything, hear everything. Some of the Chileans and Spaniards crossed themselves; others swore. Count Edmond breathed hard and muttered, "Grand Dieu!"

She wondered why the captain and Mr. Tollenache, who had returned from his stateroom and was standing in the half light of a doorway, should simultaneously drop their right hands into a coat pocket. Mr. Tollenache, too, gave a queer little nod to the American, who had moved near to Isabel and placed a hand on her shoulder. Elsie was quite sure that Gray whispered, "For goodness' sake, don't cause a scene!" And indeed he did ask Isabel and Mrs. Somerville, with some curtness, to restrain themselves.

Courtney with one quick glance chilled into silence the muttered prayers and curses of the Chileans.

"It may be necessary about day-break to endeavor to beach the ship," he continued, "I wish you all, therefore, to guard against possible exposure by wearing warm clothes, especially furs and overcoats. Money and jewelry should be secured, but no baggage of any sort, not even the smallest hand bag, can be carried, as all other personal belongings must be left on board. Passengers will gather here and remain here until I send one of the officers for them. The companion doors will not be closed again, but the decks are quite impassable. You hear for yourselves that they are momentarily swept by heavy seas."

He turned to the chief steward.

"Your men, Mr. Malcolm," he said, "will begin at once, under my directions, to draw stores for each boat. There need be no hurry or excitement. We are not yet many miles distant from the nearest known land. If the wind changes or one of several possible things happens, the Kansas will suffer no damage whatever. I wish all hands to be prepared, however, for the chance—the remote chance, I trust—of the ship's being driven ashore, and I beg each one of you to remember that discipline and strict obedience to orders are not only more necessary now than ever, but also that they will be strictly enforced."

The concluding sentence was uttered very slowly and clearly. It was evident he meant the ship's company to understand him. Before any of his hearers attempted to question him he jammed the new sweater on his head and ran up the stairs. The dog followed somewhat ruefully, the cozy ration being far more to his liking than the wind swept, spray lashed chert house. Mr. Malcolm promptly stirred his myrmidons with a command to fall in by boat's crews, and Gomez with his chief's approval by quietly translating the captain's orders. Beyond Mrs. Somerville's subdued sobbing there was little outward manifestation that another crisis in the history of the Kansas and her human freight had come and gone.

CHAPTER IV.

A little yeast leavens much flour, so does the presence of a few stout hearted men give strength and courage to a multitude. Although the rumor soon went the rounds that a giant wave which pooped the ship had carried away two of her six boats, there were no visible signs of flurry in the measures taken to equip the remaining boats for use. The men had confidence in their officers. Every one worked smoothly and well.

All told, there were eighty persons on board when the Kansas left Valparaiso. Of these, seventeen, including the officers, were of European birth or lineage. The remaining sixty-three were men of mixed nationalities, ranging from Spanish speaking Chileans to negroes. There were eight under-stewards, a cook and his assistants and nearly fifty sailors and firemen.

Unfortunately the explosion of the stockhold had killed the chief engineer and one of his juniors, while six stokers were dead and several injured.

It was discovered that before he died the chief had shut off steam and thus prevented the accident from assuming far more serious proportions. The second engineer, a Newscastle man named Walker, who rushed to the engine room at the first indication of a mishap, found his chief lying in collapse on the lever platform. Walker promptly opened certain levers, which allowed the steam to escape freely; then he carried his comrade out of the engine to the deck. It was too late. Partial suffocation had placed too great a strain on a diseased heart. By the time Dr. Christofani was summoned a brave man was dead.

Courtney, who had left instructions that he was to be called when the Evangelist's light was sighted, was found asleep. In the elevated quarters assigned to the captain the noise of the explosion differed little from the thunderous blows of the sea, but the stopping of the engines awoke him instantly. He felt the ship lurch away from her course and saw the quick stroke of the compass indicator over his head. As he ran down the gangway leading from the bridge he heard the officer of the watch say:

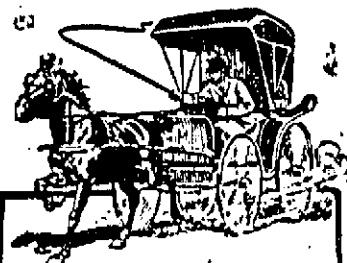

"Something given way in the engine room, sir."

Several minutes elapsed before he or Walker, aided by willing volunteers, could penetrate the depths of the stockhold. The place was a churning mass, a stifling pit, filled with the charred contents of the furnaces, which gave off the most noxious fumes owing to the rapid condensation of steam and water escaping from the damaged pipes. But the sole ruling without served one good purpose in driving plenty of air down the ventilating cowls. Gradually the choking atmosphere cleared. Courtney was the first to reach the lowermost rung of the iron ladder, whence he looked with the eyes of despair on a scene of death and ruin.

The electric light was uninjured. It revealed the bodies of several men, either dead or insensible, lying amid the scattered coal. Shovels, stoking rods and pieces of iron plate had been hurled about in wild confusion. The door of one furnace was blown clean out of its bolts, furnace bars and fire bricks strewn the iron deck, while each time the ship rolled the heavy clank of loose metal somewhere in the engine room, proved that the damage was not confined solely to the stockhold.

If Courtney could have dropped quietly into the sea through the stout hull of the Kansas he would have welcomed the certain result of that bitter moment. But he was the captain, and men would look to him for salvation. Well, he would do all that was possible and, at any rate, die at his post. So, choking back his misery, he organized the work of rescue. Slings were formed of ropes, and those men in whom any signs of life were visible were the first to be lifted to the upper deck. The stockhold was quickly emptied of its inanimate occupants. Living and dead alike were carried to the unattended second class salon forward. Then Courtney left Walker to solve the puzzle of the accident and report on its extent, while he climbed back to the bridge, there to tackle the far more pressing problem of the measures to be adopted if he would save his ship.

It was typical of the man that his first act was to wipe the grime of the stockhold off his face and hands. Then he drew a chart from the locker in which he had placed it two hours earlier. Mr. Boyle, who had been attending the signals both by siren and rocket, joined him. Courtney pointed Kidney diseases are generally found in persons whose blood is impoverished or impure, and whose nerves have not sufficient power or force to make the kidneys perform their proper functions.

The duty of the kidneys is to filter the blood, and when this fluid is filled with uric acid and malarial poisons they become overburdened with extra work. When the nerves are not strong, they fail to supply the power to do this work; then the kidneys become clogged and disease sets in. Kidney complaints usually commence with cold chills, especially in the back and loins, followed with fever and pain. The pain extends to the bladder, loins and thighs. The urine becomes highly colored or extremely light. It sometimes looks red or blood-like, with a brick dust sediment after standing; or it may be stringy or milky and filled with albumen, the most vital element of the body.

When these conditions are allowed to continue they result in one or more of the following conditions:

Kidney Complaints.

Good, Honest Results.

Henry Hood, Mineral Ridge, O., says: "I can say that DeBells' Kidney Pills is the best remedy I ever used for rheumatism and kidney troubles. I have tried a good many kinds of medicine before I commenced using DeBells' Kidney Pills, but since I commenced using DeBells' Kidney Pills I can sleep better and don't have to get up so often in the night, and I am much better than I was before I commenced taking them."

Backache, Weak Back, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Bright's Disease, Gravel, Gout, Irritation of the bladder, Scalding Urine, Swelling of the Ankles, Dropsy, or some other form of Kidney or Urinary Trouble.

DeBells' Kidney Pills have a direct and specific action in all forms of Kidney, Bladder and Urinary trouble and it is this remedy which gives the kidneys strength to cast off all poisonous matter from the blood, thus stopping the cause of diseases of this nature.

Try DeBells' Kidney Pills. We claim they are par excellence—the most thorough, rapid and effective treatment ever prepared for the cure of kidney trouble and we say it because of the results obtained by their use. They speak for themselves; all we ask is to give them a chance to cure you, the one who suffers.

Did yourself once and forever, by a treatment that you know will cure you and come again into your own happiness, good cheer, contentment, energy, ambition, hope, new life and perfect energy.

THE GOLDEN EAGLE

17th ANNUAL SPRING OPENING SALE

SATURDAY, APRIL 11th AND CONTINUES ONE WEEK.

Beautiful Souvenirs Will be Given Away Free.

At no opening of the past have we been so thoroughly prepared or so confident of meeting high expectations. It is the opening of our spring season and we want it to start off with a whirl; that is why so many of the prices are special and should interest you. We begin opening week with the greatest era of spring selling which we have ever undertaken. The GOLDEN EAGLE has built its enormous trade by making good—by giving big values—by pleasing its customers. But there are other things which should attract you to our spring opening—the season's styles—the absolutely new things which are offered.

The Golden Eagle Begins Its Spring Opening Saturday

It begins the seventeenth year of continuous trade in Janesville; it begins an era of bargain selling in every department never before equalled in the county.
